

Objectives

In this section you will:

- Know what data types are and what they are used for.
- Understand and identify different data types including text, number, percentage, date/time and boolean.
- Be able to select the correct data type for different sets of data.