

Objectives

In this section you will:

- Know the structure of a computer system.
- Know the main components of a computer system.
- Understand what each component is used for.
- Be able to identify each individual component by sight.